HYDROCOLLOID ADHESIVE SHEATH

- First and only self-adhering male sheath to combine the excellent moisture-wicking properties of a hydrocolloid adhesive with the exceptional breathability of silicone^{1,2}
- A broad line of male external catheters with a diverse range of coverage
- Hydrocolloid adhesive wicks away moisture to help protect skin integrity, minimize skin maceration and maintain adhesion^{1,2}
- Made with 100% silicone

Style 1

Offers built-in adhesive in a length and placement found with traditional male external catheters.
