Rosidal® Soft Foam Padding. Washable, non-slip padding helps provide even pressure distribution of compression bandages over the extremities. As a result, Rosidal soft is ideally-suited for padding under lymphedema and venous edema compression bandage applications. This skin-friendly padding is made from polyurethane foam which is highly breathable and permeable to moisture. The interlocking open pores provide slip-resistant assurance and can help prevent the compression bandages from sliding. Durable and tear resistant, Rosidal soft can be a cost-effective padding due to its ability to withstand repeated washings and not lose its elasticity. Bandage and clips are latex free and are not made with natural rubber latex. 2.7 yds (2.5m) long.
